Actor leaving CSUS for a prestigious N.Y curtain call

Piper Alvey
Staff Writer

Watch out New York, here comes Bradley Moates and he plans on taking over!

This fall CSUS senior Moates will be attending one of the most prestigious acting schools in the nation, The American Music and Dramatic Academy. Moates is one of only 30 students accepted out of 800 applicants. He'll be entering their two year program that teaches all the performing arts for stage, television and film. All Moates has to say is, "I'm just meant to be an actor."

"They only pick people they think can survive the business," Moates said. And with his ambition he will.

"I'm obsessed," he admitted. "There hasn't been a role I didn't like and that I wouldn't do over again. Besides, acting is the only thing I know how to do."

He's already proven that he has the talent, and the drive. In Moates' three years, he has played in at least four major campus productions, been in numerous community productions, performed nightly at Garbeau's Dinner Theatre and held two jobs.

"In the last three years there's only been two weeks where I wasn`t in some stage of a production," said Moates.

In fact, around Christmas Moates was in three different shows. "When it's 11 o'clock at night and you're driving to rehearsal, you know you're going crazy."

Besides constantly being in a performance, Moates teaches several classes at the Short Center, one involves teaching the arts to developmentally disabled adults.

He also works for a travel agency on commission. He's enjoyed the travel agency experience because it allows him to travel all over the world. One trip took him to London where he got to see his idol, Patti LuPone, perform in "Les Miserable."

"She has vocal chords of iron," Moates said.

He has only two ultimate goals in life,"To fill up my passport before it expires, and to sing a duet with Patti LuPone."

Pizza parlor puts nine microbreweries on tap

Jennifer Whipple
Staff Writer

Out of approximately 150 pizza places in the Sacramento area there is only one that, in addition to pizza, sells the largest and most unique selection of pizza's most customary companion, beer.

"We have the best selection of drafts in Sacramento County," said Francie Fitzsimmons, manager of Mountain Mike's Pizza, located at 2033 Arden Way.

Mountain Mike's Pizza features a selection of 15 stouts, ales and lagers on draft, nine of which are made at microbreweries in the area, including Sacramento's own Rubicon Brewing Company.

"We feature small U.S. breweries that use all natural ingredients," Fitzsimmons said.

Microbreweries are small breweries whose products are totally handcrafted.

Mountain Mike's features amber and dark beer from St. Stan's, a microbrewery in Modesto, and Anchor Steam lager from San Francisco. Anchor Steam is the smallest and oldest of the microbreweries. Sierra Nevada ale from Chico, a dark beer made in Nevada City at a microbrewery of the same name, Truckee, a lager made in Truckee and Rubicon's pale ale and stout can all be found on tap at Mountain Mike's.

In addition to the microbrewery drafts, Mountain Mike's has three different imported beers, Watneys, Watneys London Light, and Newcastle, all from England. Domestic beers include Budweiser, Miller Genuine Draft, Coors Light and Old Milwaukee.

Mountain Mike's serves these fine drafts at their mini-bar for $1.50 a glass or $3.95 a pitcher for domestics. Premiums, or microbrewery beers and imports, sell for $1.95 a glass and $5.95 a pitcher. During Happy Hour, which is from 4-8 p.m. daily, all pitchers are $1.00 off, premium glasses are $1.50 and a glass of domestic beer is $1.00. Old Milwaukee sells for 50 cents for a six ounce glass and $2.50 per pitcher all of the time.

If 15 choices is too overwhelming for those who have a tough time making decisions, Mountain Mike's has a solution. For $2.00 the beer epicure can have three six ounce samples of their choice.

Mountain Mike's may not be the average brewpub patron's idea of the emblematic meeting place with dart boards, pool tables and drunken revelers, but in contrast its bright and airy atmosphere welcomes those who want to relax, study or share a pizza with friends.

Also, Mountain Mike's has an "All You Can Eat Buffet" for $2.95 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday and Wednesday nights from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. for $4.95.

Moates

This summer Moates will be performing with the Santa Rosa Summer Repertory Theater, then it's off to New York. He has several friends there to lend some support, but it will still be tough.

"I'll have to do the Top Ramen and 75 roommate thing," said Moates.

The costs of tuition for the academy is $6,000 a semester. He's acquired as many loans as possible and still has a lot to earn, but he says it's all worth it.

"You don't choose to be an actor, it just happens," he said, "I know I'm good and very versatile. Age is the only thing that might hinder me."

Moates can play a wide range of roles, but his passion is musicals. He likes to make the audience laugh and believes comedic timing is one of his best attributes.

Talking about his experience at CSUS, Moates said, "You make it positive, and the department was good to me." He had praise abound for Dr. Larsen and claims that, "Waldo is a genius with sets." He also thinks his experience at Garbeau's was a big help. Doing the same character every night, five nights a week builds stamina.

Moates said,"You have to find the energy and inspiration over and over."

So now Moates believes that he's done everything he can in Sacramento and is looking ahead.

"New York look out and put your seatbelts on," warns Moates,"and if nothing else, they'll know the crazy red-head was there."

Graduation regalia colors have meaning

The history of academic dress goes back to the medieval European universities of the 14th century. European universities continue to follow varied patterns in cut and color of gown and type of headdress. United States universities have standardized the academic dress so that its features are generally uniform throughout the country.

The Gown

The gown is ordinarily black for academic degrees, but certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The pattern varies with the degree held: pointed sleeves for the bachelor's degree; short sleeves for the master's degree; and round, full sleeves for the doctorate. The bachelor's and master's gowns have no trimmings. The doctoral gown is faced down the front with black velvet and trimmed with three bars of the same material across the sleeves — or the color of this velvet may be that of the subject in which the degree is granted.

The Hood

Hoods are not usually worn for the bachelor's degree. The master's hood is shorter and lacks the panels of the doctoral hood. Hoods are lined with the color of the school, two colors being shown by putting chevrons of one color on the other color. The binding or edging of the hood is velvet of the color pertaining to the subject of the degree.

The Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The standard tassel is black. Doctoral caps have gold tassels.

Official Colors

Represented among colors worn by members of the faculty are more than 100 colleges and universities from which they have earned their highest degrees.
